Introduction

The EpsonNet External Print Server (C823781) includes a network adapter and software that lets you configure the printer for a variety of Ethernet protocols. You can connect the adapter to a supported non-PostScript® EPSON® printer with a parallel interface, and then connect the printer directly to your network. Additional utilities let you manage all your network printers, monitor printer status, and print across the Internet.

The print server supports IEEE 802.2, IEEE 802.3, Ethernet II, and Ethernet SNAP network protocols. Your users can print from Microsoft® Windows®, Apple® Macintosh®, UNIX®, and IBM® OS/2® applications.

New features of the print server include support for Windows 2000 IPP (Internet Printing Protocol), printer status pages, and Telnet Port 9100. The print server supports Printer MIB proxy response, SNMP settings such as SNMP community, IP trap, and IPX traps through the EpsonNet WinAssist, MacAssist, and WebAssist utilities.

Following is a list of software included with the EpsonNet External Print Server.

- EpsonNet Install Wizard (Windows only)
  Use this utility to find the print server on the network, automatically install the printer driver, and automatically configure the printer port. The Install Wizard also has a script mode to automate printer setup on workstations. See the EpsonNet Install Wizard User’s Guide for details.

- EpsonNet WinAssist
  Lets you configure the print server for TCP/IP, NetWare®, NetBEUI, AppleTalk™ IPP, or SNMP. See page 15 for installation instructions.

- EpsonNet MacAssist
  Lets you configure the print server for TCP/IP, AppleTalk®, IPP, or SNMP. See page 16 for installation instructions.
EpsonNet WebAssist (pre-installed on the network adapter)
Lets you configure the print server using your browser. See page 17 for a list of supported browsers.

EpsonNet WebManager
Provides printer management and monitoring features using your browser across the Internet or your Intranet. See page 17 for details.

EpsonNet Direct Print Utility
Enables TCP/IP (LPR) printing in Windows 95, 98, and Me. See the Administrator’s Manual for more information.

EpsonNet Internet Print Utility
Offers printing across the Internet and Intranet for EPSON printers connected with the print server to networks running Windows 95, 98, and NT 4.x. See the Administrator’s Manual for more information.

1. Insert the CD-ROM in your drive. You see the following window:
2. Select View Administrator’s Manual and follow the instructions on the screen to view the manual or install Acrobat Reader.

Note:
You can also open the manual by double-clicking Admin_Manual.pdf in the Manuals > Admin_Manual folder on the CD-ROM.

To open the manual on a Macintosh:

If you need to install Acrobat Reader, double-click Install Adobe Acrobat Reader before you open the manual.

1. Insert the CD-ROM in your drive.
2. Double-click the EPSON CD-ROM icon (if necessary).
3. Double-click EPSON in the window that opens.

   If you’re using OS X, double-click EPSON in the OS X folder.

Connecting the Print Server

Follow the steps below to connect the print server to the network.

1. Make sure the printer is turned off.

2. Plug the print server into the printer’s parallel interface connector and secure it with the wire clips.

3. Connect the network cable to the print server, and connect the other end to the network.

Note:

- Use a Category 5 twisted-pair cable to connect the print server to the network.

- The print server will automatically use DHCP to obtain an IP address. If it cannot get an IP address this way, it will use the private IP address of 192.168.192.168.
4. Turn the printer on.

5. Plug the AC adapter’s power cord into a grounded electrical outlet. Then connect it to the AC adapter. Be sure to use the AC adapter included with the print server.

6. Press and hold down the status sheet button on the print server, then plug the AC adapter into the DC-IN connector on the print server. Continue to hold down the status sheet button for about 10 seconds.

!Status sheet button

Note:

It can take up to one minute to initialize the print server. When it’s done initializing, its STATUS light turns green or orange.

7. When the print server is done initializing, press the status sheet button again for about two seconds, to print the status sheets. If the status sheets print, the print server is installed correctly.

Caution:

Before disconnecting the print server from the printer, always turn off the printer and unplug the AC adapter.
Installing Software on Windows

Before you install the software, make sure you set up the required protocols and services in your operating system. If you install EpsonNet Install Wizard or EpsonNet WinAssist before you add or delete protocols or services, the software may not work. You may need to uninstall and then reinstall it.
